Think about:

- who is better to an EventArt's customer
- if it is not better venue's providers to be EventArt's main customers, because they are ready to pay more money for marketing
- to charge the real users, EventArt gives also value to them
- if it is not better EventArt services to be paid from the begging
- to charge event management suppliers % of the prices of the things they provide
- if customers should be ready to give more money if it really good system
- if it is better to have little sells but worthy
- if 3D part is important, because is a lot of time consuming and difficult for realization. the prices of being part and using EventArt
- if it should not be difficult to assure all providers in the system
- how synchronization between EventArt and other event management providers will be achieved
- if the video should be different for this kind of business
- to start from one city and expand after that
